Missions Recap - Autumn Edition

Happy December!

Hope you all are doing well and may the Lord bless you during this holiday season! I'm excited to share some updates with you about these last couple months in Spain and what to expect in the next few weeks.

Camp Season/Anniversary

This summer at Peña de Horeb was one of the busiest and most productive seasons I've seen here. The camp was booked nearly every day from June through September, hosting churches from across Spain, OMS teams and interns, and volunteers from around the world. It was constant activity, and it was encouraging to see how many groups continued to invest in the ministry.

For my part, I spent the summer supporting a lot of the day-to-day needs around the camp—everything from lawn care and kitchen work to translation for teams and helping with finance.

Another highlight was celebrating the camp's 50th anniversary. We were able to bring together many people who've had their lives shaped by Peña over the years and celebrate with food, a carnival, a gospel choir concert, and stories from those who first experienced God's work in their lives here. It was a clear reminder of the long impact this ministry has had in Spain.

I also had the chance to see some good friends from Glasgow and take my mom on a trip to southern Spain, which was a gift during an otherwise intense season.

Coming Home

As I wrap up sharing about Peña and the ministry here, I want to give a brief update on what's ahead.

During the renewal process for my residency, an issue came up that I wasn't able to resolve before my current permit expired. Because of that, I'll be returning to the United States sooner than planned and will be connecting with OMS leadership to determine next steps. The ministries in Spain continue moving forward, and I'll share more updates as things become clearer.

Thank you for your support, prayers, and encouragement!

Looking forward to seeing you soon in person!
